

```
graph TD; HM[hospital management] --> U[utility]; HM --> DB[database];
```

hospital management

This diagram is a UML Component Diagram. It features three components, each represented by a yellow rectangle with a small port icon in the top right corner. The component labeled 'hospital management' is positioned at the top. Two directed arrows originate from its bottom edge and point to the top edges of the components labeled 'utility' and 'database' below it. The 'utility' component is on the left, and the 'database' component is on the right.

utility

database

